'ELLO, ELLO, ELLO! WOT'S ALL THIS 'ERE THEN?'

IT'S EDITORIALS WHETHER they appear in the paper or the comic supplement, tend to be [illegible] to the point of self contem[illegible]. It [illegible] for a statement on the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with the growth [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] growing [illegible] both physical [illegible] [illegible] and body [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] people [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] We have [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] expected

[illegible] the relevance [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] minority [illegible] [illegible] and we would make our [illegible] efficient as possible to which [illegible] [illegible] mock of [illegible] and individual freedom as we can. Inevitably in a situation such as IT's people are going to get pissed off [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 10.30 instead of 12.30.

As IT has [illegible] developing between those who [illegible] to stop the paper and those who wanted [illegible] [illegible]. Making the matter [illegible] [illegible] fact [illegible] the letter [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] editorials [illegible] the paper. They want more power [illegible] decisions. [illegible] to [illegible] IT [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] plate of the [illegible] [illegible] has to be [illegible] [illegible] weekly staff meetings we [illegible] when the [illegible] together with [illegible] to the organisational structure of IT. With regard to the [illegible] meeting the staff [illegible] would [illegible] the legally necessary company structure of IT [illegible] [illegible] they agreed that they would like to become equal share holders [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in power. And yet it was two of the directors of Knullar the company which actually publishes IT [illegible] small portion's [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] 'Staff Take-Over' [illegible] IT

It cannot be denied that mistakes were made by the directors [illegible] [illegible] of certain staff members were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] made where may [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] words. IT was [illegible] [illegible] those who were prepared [illegible]

[illegible] until we have seemed [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by them [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] newspaper and found [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which they would do so [illegible] prepared [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] the large proportion of IT staff? The Underground [illegible] enough [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] only newspaper to be smashed from within with all the [illegible] it would have, in no way to help construct an alternative society. It may be that IT was 100% bullshit, but if Ian Dallas, David Warren and Co really wanted to give support for their [illegible] on how the Underground should be [illegible] they could have [illegible] left IT and [illegible] setting up [illegible] paper. We would have applauded [illegible]

Instead they [illegible] the essential [illegible] and [illegible] of the underground was completely ignored in the process.

AN OPEN LETTER...

TO THE DIRECTORS OF IT (Hopefully for publication in said paper)

Dear Graham & Mick

We are publishing a paper of our own separate from IT. Why are we doing this and why did we need [illegible] the events of October 12th, and following?

We are firstly publishing without your aid to show you and the readers that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] truly [illegible] newspaper [illegible] than IT

We [illegible] the Oct [illegible] 12th thing because we [illegible] [illegible] that IT belongs to [illegible] owned by anyone [illegible] small group of people. We also [illegible] the fact that the decision makers (yourselves) at IT before October 13th (and presumably now) were the best people to make decisions for the paper. We [illegible] believe IT to be [illegible] opportunity (thanks to the [illegible] founders, the readers and all those who ever worked at IT) [illegible] to show everyone that [illegible] necessary to [illegible] to [illegible] in order to publish inside the law. The [illegible] of IT was almost [illegible] [illegible] shareholders [illegible] directors [illegible] by the [illegible] [illegible] workers, [illegible] capitalist scene.

The real intent of the 12th [illegible] its original [illegible] simply change [illegible] [illegible] by confronting you with [illegible], because you hold onto your positions of power and claims to ownership. We made our own mistakes. It went wrong.

What we hope to see eventually is an IT which no longer [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] equal [illegible] whatever. It is not enough to say that co-operatives are necessary. One must[illegible] [illegible] necessary. We will [illegible] [illegible] separate paper and our different structure that it can be achieved. We will make [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] That's what the [illegible] society is supposed to be about. Surely?

What I personally want to see is the day that we are free of the bad [illegible] of IT [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] We need to show you that you [illegible] [illegible] from us.

Why do I want to see [illegible] paper [illegible] [illegible] not two? Because IT [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] (to use the term). Since we share the concept and then are altogether [illegible] something like 15 of us we could together make it truly free press (which hasn't existed for at least 100 years in this country and which is now struggling [illegible]) 15 people can do it together that's all.

To make this free press we need to do the following things—

1. Create a democratic [illegible] situation.
2. Open our doors to anyone and everyone
3. [illegible] with the [illegible] property
4. Screw Screw Screw

In other words get our heads [illegible] [illegible] together.

I suggest an OPEN meeting, open to the world, where we can share our ideas.

When? When you decide IT really belongs to everyone and not some [illegible] [illegible] company. I welcome the day.

Freedom is what we are about.

David Warren

To Be Attacked by the Enemy is Not a Bad Thing

MAO TSE TUNG (May 1939)

On Sunday October 12th whilst two of the directors of Knullar (Printing, Publishing & Promotions) Ltd, the company that publishes IT were in Oxford [illegible] [illegible] for the [illegible] issue, IT's premises were taken over by 20 or 30 people. Two of the staff Malcolm and Charli the [illegible] three of the part-time staff, Joe Berenbaum, Gareth [illegible] and two former members of staff David Warren, layout artist, and Ian Dallas a guest editor for three issues in the summer were behind the action. Earlier that afternoon the breakaway group visited one of the [illegible] in Tonbridge, because at a recent weekly [illegible] [illegible] had [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] staff meeting [illegible] belief that the paper was morally wrong in its structure.

In the early evening the Breakaway Group [illegible] the building [illegible] the London Street Commune to occupy the premises with them. In the building at the same time was Sue Small, IT's [illegible] Lady who was asked to join the 'revolution' [illegible] and was [illegible] prevented from leaving the building with her [illegible] files. She tore them up and was allowed to go.

She contacted Graham and Mark, informing them that she had seen people carrying away office machinery. Graham tried to phone the office four times but could get no coherent answer. Fearing for the machinery and angered by the threats to Sue, he called the police.

On arrival outside 27 Endell St Graham and Mark together with Mike and his wife Sue, met the police and members of the Breakaway Group but without their 'leaders'. After [illegible] [illegible] from the [illegible] [illegible] police [illegible] who were guarding the door Graham and Mark were allowed to [illegible] to check whether any equipment was in fact missing. It was. The Police took details and left. No charges were preferred.

The following day the Breakaway Group issued a press statement written by Ian Dallas and Phil Cohen, in conjunction with the London Street Commune.

Jack Kerouac Dies in Florida

It is [illegible] Kerouac [illegible] ten years from [illegible] the book [illegible] The Town And The City [illegible] the biggest [illegible] "On The Road" [illegible] world [illegible] what the world was about. It was the novel which [illegible] the philosophy of The Beat Generation [illegible] the activities of Allen Ginsberg, Neal Cassidy, William Burroughs and [illegible] has remained his best known book of the generation (along with "Naked Lunch".)

Kerouac wrote many books "The Dharma Bums" "The Subterraneans" "Doctor Sax" "Maggie Cassidy". He ventured into poetry with "Mexico City Blues" and into philosophising with "The Scripture of The Golden Eternity". [illegible] for the [illegible] "Big Sur" [illegible] wrote down [illegible] "Book Of Dreams" [illegible] known [illegible] such as "Lonesome Traveller" "Visions of Cody" and "Desolation Angels". [illegible] Neal Cassidy's dead now [illegible] himself has gone dead, possibly of drink in Florida. [illegible] it is [illegible] but [illegible] the free life of "On The Road" [illegible] It's impossible to tell. We're sorry to see him go. [illegible] his Nirvana.

COMMUNITY BUST!

Just after 12pm on Saturday morning, October 25th, [illegible] police burst into St. Johns School, Clarendon Road W.11 [illegible] search for drugs. Storming through the building they kicked in doors, [illegible] to search the premises. In all, 22 people were taken to Notting Hill Police Station. Only [illegible] were charged with drug offences and the rest were held for a variety of reasons amongst them being underaged.

At 7am the same morning, police were [illegible] the building kicking [illegible] people to get up. No attempt was made to search the [illegible] of the inhabitants. [illegible] Papers were taken from [illegible] their identity and age with passports [illegible] Notting Hill cells [illegible] Once in the cells [illegible] Requests [illegible] 19 girls were put in a cell [illegible] One person was detained for 14 hours without food and drink.

Most of those arrested were [illegible] during Saturday [illegible] have been charged with being in possession of drugs. [illegible] on remand [illegible] Two [illegible] with fines of £10 for obstruction and 30/- for [illegible] behaviour at [illegible]

St. Johns School has been derelict for nearly 2½ years. Efforts to get the I.L.E.A. to buy it for a Youth and Community School failed last year and it passed into the hands of the [illegible] Mr Davies [illegible] and Mr Davies is fighting for planning permission [illegible] and is believed to be going to demolish the school at the end of the year. During last summer the building was [illegible] the Notting Hill Social Council as the headquarters for a summer play programme. Considerable effort was made to make the building habitable again. Since the end of September a number of people have stayed on in the building with the owner's knowledge. Members of the London Street Commune joined the community a fortnight ago.

Suspicions of drugs, vagrancy [illegible] to young people can be an excuse for heavy raids of this kind. Everyone would be affronted [illegible] police [illegible] into their bedrooms. We know [illegible] happen [illegible] Why should it be [illegible] again in Notting Hill.

WITH THE PORNOGRAPHIC TOUCH

On Monday last two detectives from "New Scotland Yard" visited the IT offices in Endell St. looking for pornography. They were told that IT was not a pornographic newspaper [illegible] surprised.

"See you later" said the spokesman and [illegible] IT [illegible] edited by a woman and tucked it under [illegible] the long arm of the law.

What they really wanted was the [illegible] their last issue and were making [illegible] at that very moment. Worth getting a copy of it if there are any left.

Murder?

[illegible]
[illegible]
Parkhurst Prison
Isle of Wight.

20th October 1969.

Dear Sir

On the 15th March, 1967 Michael Lavaglio and myself [illegible] were sentenced to life imprisonment [illegible] murder we did not commit. [illegible] Nevertheless I shall [illegible] support this [illegible] will bear with me.

Firstly the finding of guilt was based purely on circumstantial evidence. There was no [illegible] put forward by the police [illegible] a single witness produced who saw [illegible] take place. [illegible] the accused were never [illegible] of the [illegible] of the crime, which was also based on speculation.

Since the trial [illegible] it has been discovered that the police were in possession of twelve witnesses [illegible] police officers [illegible] stood we could have been innocent of this crime. Yet these statements were suppressed, and never made available to the Court for the jury to consider [illegible] that the prosecution theory of the events was not possible. And in addition to this [illegible] to the Magistrate [illegible] This officer was [illegible] the visibility of a road junction from a distance of 300 yards. (This [illegible] importance to the Defence) [illegible] witness had [illegible] distance from the said junction [illegible] by two cars, but he did not see them turn at the junction. Therefore if the junction was not visible from 300 yards, the witness obviously would not have been able to see them turn. So the prosecution would [illegible] have been correct in their theory. But if the junction was visible from 300 yards and the witness still did not see them turn, the Defence claim that the cars must have driven straight past the junction would be correct. [illegible] their ability [illegible]

The next day [illegible] the officer gave evidence that the said junction WAS NOT visible from 300 yards. The [illegible] Court [illegible] accepted [illegible] now that [illegible] established that this officer's evidence [illegible] 300 yards. You [illegible] has since measured and photographed [illegible] can be simply verified by direct observation.

THE END OF THE HONEYMOON

In July of this year, I was [illegible] to [illegible] Lord Robens of the National Coal Board to speak at the Area Conference of the National [illegible] of Mineworkers about the [illegible] record of the [illegible] industry. Just over three months later [illegible] the [illegible] strike [illegible].

In the last great [illegible] of its [illegible] coal [illegible] of [illegible] England where the men have [illegible] a long period of [illegible] miners [illegible]. Likewise with the coal industry. In 1947 the coal [illegible] the National Coal Board on behalf of the people. [illegible] years in which NCB [illegible] was [illegible] the envy of England [illegible] industry [illegible] has been [illegible] and the [illegible] in the past few years [illegible] to [illegible]. What happened?

In the years between 1946 and 1958 the coal industry went through a [illegible] change of circumstances, totally [illegible] anybody in the latter. The [illegible] were the [illegible] of coal [illegible] coal heavy investment in new capacity by the NCB's policy of [illegible] were all features of the period. It looked as if demand for coal would outstrip supply for many years to come and [illegible] of demand and output were made by the nation.

Then suddenly and rapidly, things began to change. Oil became cheaper [illegible] electric power became a real [illegible], natural gas was [illegible] the North Sea and coal supply began to exceed demand. Domestic coal [illegible] in 19[illegible] and [illegible] began to build up from the very low level in the shortage years. In a relatively short period (in terms of the length of time it takes for a mining industry to alter its investment and production structure) the industry had to change its approach from producing any amount of coal [illegible]. It had to become an industry acutely conscious of its competitors, geared to cutting costs to [illegible], to raising productivity and closing pits in a "rationalisation" programme.

And so the big pit closure programme began in earnest. Between 1957 and 1962 [illegible] were closed or merged, and [illegible] those were those which had [illegible] left in a [illegible] state by the old private coalowners [illegible] their reserves of coal. There were [illegible] less men in the industry in 1962 than in 19[illegible] and there were [illegible] pits still open.

In the very much shorter period from 1962 to 1969 two hundred and [illegible] pits were closed and of [illegible] men in 1962, there were only [illegible] left by April 1969. [illegible] their jobs or had been [illegible]. And the year 1968/9 was the worst of all for the year, and by March 1969 there was a reduction of [illegible] men [illegible] thousand men a week and on the average a pit was closed every five days.

The men were kept loyal through these hard times by several factors [illegible] by the [illegible] them by a Labour government which had [illegible] power on their shoulders. That it was [illegible] the [illegible] of the NCB, [illegible] of productivity [illegible] for the industry. But somehow [illegible] this has gone too far. The miners' [illegible] snapped.

[illegible] they ask is this. If the reward for all their loyalty and hard work is [illegible] pits closed in a single year, one thousand [illegible] a week and [illegible] draining away from the industry and many [illegible] been transferred from pit to pit as the [illegible] one upon another [illegible] be any worse? Did they really have anything to lose by taking a firm stand?

The Board and the government [illegible] the miners. Time and again men have been told about [illegible] job with a future", time and again they have been told that the pit they are now being transferred to [illegible]. This [illegible]. And a few months later the pit [illegible] its way, the pit is [illegible] closed. For the men another [illegible]. The Board may offer men [illegible] twenty miles away, and if [illegible] disqualified [illegible] redundancy money.) And there's been [illegible] over the [illegible] the men are [illegible] of a man in [illegible] necessary to make the pit "economic". As [illegible] things [illegible]. But the trouble is, [illegible] the men have given everything [illegible] the rise in productivity and [illegible] colliery in South Wales, [illegible] than the [illegible] productivity [illegible]. [illegible] colliery [illegible] where the [illegible].

And the Labour government [illegible]. The Prime Minister [illegible] the Durham [illegible] nuclear power [illegible]. This [illegible] policy was meant to help [illegible] years of productivity [illegible] British industry of 7, 8, 9, 10 per cent a year, what have [illegible]? [illegible] £12 a week working more than forty [illegible] (to say nothing of [illegible] couple of dozen [illegible] twenty-odd miles away) underground men taking home less than £20 and often less than that.

It is important not to be sentimental about the coal industry. There are several points to be grasped here. Firstly, coal mining is hard, dangerous and dirty work and [illegible] men could truly say they'd be glad never to have to go underground again. Secondly, it is also a way of life—a village and a community depends on the pit and its work, often in an area where there is almost no alternative employment. A [illegible] fuel policy could have been [illegible] and give these men [illegible] new jobs in [illegible] safety.

Unfortunately fuel policy has been [illegible] the way. In order to run a low [illegible] fuel, the coal industry has been [illegible] down and [illegible] has been provided in the run down mining areas.

And what of nuclear power? [illegible] the future for generating electricity. But at the present [illegible] still very much a new technology. Nobody really knows how much [illegible] cheaper it will be than conventional methods. More [illegible] as yet untested, and nobody really knows how safe it is. It is very difficult to get facts in the United States about accidents that have occurred in nuclear stations, and it is equally difficult here. What is known is that [illegible] create a problem of highly poisonous [illegible] waste and [illegible] power generating [illegible], and [illegible] dangerous. [illegible] the coal industry [illegible] the native work for the miners.

Society as a whole is responsible and must become aware of what is happening on the [illegible] front. Too many men have been thrown on the industrial scrapheap, [illegible] many villages have died, and the miners have had all they can take. It's no wonder [illegible] the strike has happened now [illegible] in Yorkshire where there are a lot of [illegible] from other areas, particularly from Scotland.

The National Coal Board's honeymoon is over [illegible] has been drawn [illegible] and it's turned out to be [illegible] of state [illegible]. [illegible] the golden hope of the [illegible] and it's turned out [illegible]. The [illegible] of the NCB is no longer good enough. The [illegible] must have a [illegible] and [illegible] working [illegible], but more than that [illegible] must understand that this is more than just a wages and hours struggle. [illegible] the quality and direction of society as a whole.

MARIJUANA PAPERS

THE MARIJUANA PAPERS
Edited by David Solomon
Panther Modern Society 12/

Next year we will look back on the summer of '69 as the [illegible] of great gatherings: Hyde Park, Woodstock, The Isle of Wight and Sky River Rock. Festival good times were had by all and the community spirit [illegible] the crowds in a cloud as identical as almost everyone's cigarette smoke, [illegible] to the [illegible] fact that we were finally getting it together. These gatherings seemed quite separate and distinct from everyday [illegible] where the individual is continually made aware of the impossibility of being true to his own sense of identity and still live in society. Suddenly it seemed as if [illegible] kept the hideous standards of the dominant world at bay. That would hold the [illegible] shock, with a silence broken only by drunken reporters' hostile [illegible] which intelligent [illegible] people [illegible] as the [illegible] the drug were.

I KNOW what Dylan is. He is a publicity manipulator and [illegible] headed native of Minnesota who happened to write. I want you. Most of the 150 000 took exactly like him and I love the same whining voices as they sang along with him in Desolation Row Sunday Times.

And the same paper adds 'As a brief interval [illegible] attention was focused on a young woman who took off all her clothes in the Press Arena. THE INTERNATIONAL SCENE

New York

Exploding as Usual

The air in New York is like methedrine at 3 Am: clear, mild, [illegible] like white powder which some claim may be cocaine. There is no other way of explaining what is now happening in America both on the political and cultural levels. Some people would say that an explosion may occur at any moment that will totally devastate the continent, perhaps the world beyond it as well, but people have been predicting such explosions for so long that it may be just the way things seem over here. On the other hand the explosion could come tomorrow.

Take Chicago for instance, where the biggest phony trial since Sacco Vanzetti is now going on against Yippies Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin, Black Panther leader Bobby Seale, and five other young people over the disturbances at last year's Democratic convention. As things now stand, the prosecutors (with Nixon behind them) will be lucky if they get off with a simple declaration of mis-trial against them. They may yet get a national insurrection.

The trial so far is a farce and [illegible] mockery. The elderly judge is completely opposed to the ideas, hair-do and lifestyle of the defendants and makes no bones about showing it. It is clearly [illegible] attempting to try and pass judgement [illegible] as surely as if Tibetans were being tried in a Norwegian court of law. So far the judge, whose name also happens to be Hoffman, has thrown out every motion that could possibly lead to a fair trial and has even made two of the defence lawyers spend a weekend in jail on a technicality. There are numerous grounds already for demanding a re-trial, and the proceedings have only just started. The main problem is that the defendants may be forced to spend many weeks or months in jail before a re-trial motion can be granted.

If the purpose of this trial was to discourage political demonstrations among the young, it has already failed. Several hundred Yippies and SDS people (in two factions) from [illegible] to Chicago to try a repeat performance of last summer's program. Among the events planned are the destruction of the [illegible] centre by a [illegible] symbolic jailbreaks at the city's highschools in an effort to rally youth support, a giant march through the centre of Chicago and the actual closing down of the trial by forcible entry.

In the meantime the first day of the nationwide MORATORIUM over Viet-Nam is Wednesday, October 15. On this day an attempt will be made to close down all universities, schools, and as many other places as possible, in the name of [illegible] withdrawal of all troops from Viet-Nam. One month later, starting November 15, the second Moratorium is to occur, this time lasting two days. In December it will last three days, in January four days, all the way through the year if necessary until in June it will be lasting eight days. No one has any idea what this will lead to.

Perhaps the most important young film maker working in New York today is Jud Yalkut, three of whose films were recently screened in the East Village. Two of his films have already been seen at the London Film Co-op, namely TURN TURN TURN, a fast paced [illegible] very influenced by lights and [illegible] light show techniques and his wildly erotic SELF OBLITERATION showing a body painting orgy staged by Yayoi Kusama which rapidly turns into every other sort of orgy as well. These must have been fun to film but his latest film must have been a lot of work. It is so far entitled WOODSTOCK RUSHES and comprises several hours of film and video tape from this August's [illegible] freak-out in upstate New York with all the groups you can name and a cast of half a million. The present version is about an hour long, but Jud is planning to extend it into feature length. Unlike the [illegible] films shown [illegible] this has full colour and the technique is also more imaginative and [illegible] than the [illegible] film, good as that was.

Perhaps the key event of this season was Charlotte Moorman's Eighth International Avant-garde Festival which just ended. This year Charlotte ambitiously used over all of Ward's Island off Manhattan in the East River with a magnificent view of the river and [illegible] skyline, and invited dozens of artists to set up works on the island that would fit in to the incredible environment.

The vibrations given off by the festival were very pleasant and a number of people enjoyed themselves wandering from [illegible] in plastic [illegible] light, kinetic and [illegible] art. The [illegible] were on hand and kids, and artists and [illegible] had a lot of fun with them. Charlotte tried for a whole week to get herself aloft in the basket of an enormous balloon and finally succeeded. The main problem was that none of the artists were prepared for the influx of kids from nearby Spanish Harlem who quickly finished off a number of art works, and made several artists [illegible]. It would have been better if some of the works of art had actually been designed to be destroyed by the local kids in an interesting or creative way. As it was [illegible] that many artists are only theoretically in favour of art for the masses and quickly retreat into an elitist position when they see that their art is not being greeted with the high holy respect they believe it merits.

THE FALL by PETER WHITEHEAD

The Fall. The City of New York. The Time, 'THE FALL' 1967 [illegible] Capital of capitals and of capitalism. There is an image of New York inside all of us, sold to us by the photographers, film-makers. A film of the Columbia Student revolt.

The most important place in the world to be filming was America.
It was impossible to make a documentary film about protest.
I started to write a script about my own experience [illegible] making a documentary film about protest, deciding that the [illegible] non-violent activity was failing, and deciding to film the ultimate act of protest [illegible] a political assassination. From this basic idea I developed the 'plot', shall I say, for my film, which was to be of somebody who planned an act of political assassination.
I went to the university where I found somebody who [illegible] the films I'd made. He invited me to join them and suddenly I was part of the revolution. I was together with [illegible] behind barricades, living in buildings liberated by the students.
Later the police stormed the campus and there was [illegible] violence. Suddenly 'police state' is not such an exaggeration [illegible] left wing magazine. It's there. This I suppose is the end of the film, except the day I left, Bobby Kennedy was shot dead.

CONTINUOUS REPRESSION AGAINST THE VANGUARD PARTY

Repression is increasingly increasing everyday in fascist America against the Black Panther Party and genocide against the Vietnamese people in Viet Nam is increasing everyday by fascist G.I.'s who can't seem to realize what they are doing. Panthers are getting murdered everyday for the same reasons the Vietnamese people are dying for, that is the liberation of our people. Pigs destroy our offices, bomb them up with shotguns and magnums and arrest Panthers on trumped-up "alleged charges." Our leaders are being railroaded into courts after they are tagged with some of the most trumped up charges of the century and then their constitutional rights are denied by fascist judges, such as in the case of our Chairman Bobby Seale by Julius Adolph Hoffman. Bobby Seale our National Chairman is being held in jail on a so called charge of conspiracy to incite a riot, and out of all the so called conspiracy eight he is the only one being held. I mentioned earlier that he was being denied his constitutional rights. It is not a violation of the rights of citizens of fascist America to be railroaded into court without legal defense of his choice present or that he not receive fair representation. But fair representation for a Black man in America's fascist racist courts does not exist today and this is just one of the many reasons our Chairman Bobby Seale is incarcerated now because he is fighting to get point number nine of our Ten Point Platform and Program implemented for the welfare of Black people and it says "We want all Black people when brought to trial to be tried in a court by a jury of their peer group or people from their Black communities as defined by the constitution of the United States." The fascist judges and D.A.'s of the courts are supposed to be going along with the program of the U.S. Constitution but as you can see by their [illegible] it is something entirely different. Our leader Huey P. Newton, is incarcerated for an alleged killing a police officer. Our Minister of Information, Eldridge Cleaver, exiled from this fascist country for educating the people to the truth. David Hilliard our Chief of Staff, is being railroaded into court now for charges that were previously dropped and brought up again by some of Nixon's puppets on his orders to get all the leadership of the Black Panther Party not just a few but all of them. This way they think the Party will fall apart. And as you can very well see his cheeks are hard at work. What about other members of the Party the New York 21, the Conn. [illegible] Landon and [illegible] Charles [illegible] and a large number of others incarcerated fighting for the liberation of poor and oppressed people all over the world? Now doesn't this seem like a well calculated plot to jail revolutionaries all over the U.S. These are just a few of the hundreds of conspiracies planned by Dicky Nixon, Mickey Mouse Reagan, Anarchist Agnew and racist judge Julius J. Adolph Hoffman against the Black Panther Party and the repression will continue. But the people are going forth with their community control of police petition. And the people's patience are not ever lasting. This is what the people want and this is what the people will get and that is why we say ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE because the power is truly vested in the people.
